ABV
6.5%

OG/plato: 14.7

FG/plato: 4.0

Hops: Perle, Willamette

Malt: 2-Row, Caramel, Chocolate, Mattis, Pumpkin, Lactose Sugar

Spice: Cinnamon, Nutmeg, Allspice, Vanilla, Ginger

Tasting Notes:

Deep orange in color and brewed with real pumpkin puree. This ale overflows with the rich fragrance of various spices and vanilla. A sweet malty middle and creamy texture are all perfectly balanced in this remarkably drinkable pumpkin ale.

FOOD PAIRINGS

The obvious, pumpkin roll, as well as other desserts & cookies, roasted vegetables, creamy soups, and pureed sauces.

PENN FACTS

- Penn Brewery began brewing craft beers in 1986.
- Penn was the first "tied-house" i.e., restaurant tied to a brewery, in Pennsylvania since Prohibition.
- 19th-century lagering caves can be viewed at our brewery. Only a few breweries in the US have these left.

When the first British settlers were in the Americas, they brought with their ale. It is a well known fact that some of those first British ships inadvertently may have settled in colonies further north of their intended landings due to a lack of ale! While in their colonies, the need for ale was so great that anything that could be turned into fermentable wort was fair game. Pumpkin, native to the Americas, was no exception. In fact, pumpkin was well known for its high starch and sugar content to add to the fermentable bill. The American Pumpkin Ale was born over 300 years ago.

The Penn Pumpkin Roll ale spares no expense on fragrant spices, creamy lactose sugars, and real pumpkin puree.
